Law AEROHELP

Sergey Yuryev
President of the National
Air Law Association

Dear colleagues! We are pleased to welcome you to the annual Air Law Conference, which is being held for the thirteenth time, and this time in one of the most attractive cities in the world – Dubai!

The popularity of our Conference is growing every year, new faces appear among the participants. Thus, over the past years, more than 1,300 delegates representing different countries took part in the Conference, hundreds of reports were heard. The Thirteenth Conference is ready to accept more than 150 delegates, many of whom have already become its regular participants.

The Air Law Conference provides an excellent opportunity for communication "without ties" for specialists from different segments of the industry, the scientific community, professional market participants and government officials. The Conference is interesting to colleagues from different countries, so it is fair to classify it as an international event. Current problematic issues are brought up for discussion.

We invite you to Dubai to take part in the 13th Air Law Conference!

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Since 2010, the Air Law Conference has been held annually in the brilliant St Petersburg, and in 2022, the Conference was held in the hospitable and sunny Baku. In 2023, the Conference was held in the capital of Russia – magnificent Moscow. A well-thought-out program, professional speakers, choice of venue and attention to detail emphasize the high status of the Conference.

The 13th Air Law Conference will be held in Dubai – a city with an amazing history and a friendly international atmosphere.

The organizers of the Conference are the National Air Law Association and the AEROHELP Institute of Air and Space Law.

The Conference format includes five discussion panels, during which the speakers will present their reports. The speakers include academics and practicing lawyers of the aviation family from different countries, officials and representatives of the business community.

The working languages of the Conference are Russian and English, simultaneous translation is provided.

THE VENUE

Al Shindagha Museum, located on the shores of Dubai Creek in the most famous historical district of Al Shindagha, was chosen as the venue for the Thirteenth Air Lar Conference.

The museum is a beacon of Emirati heritage, linking the rich past with the future and revealing the modern Emirati identity. The museum complex includes 21 unique buildings, including the house of Sheikh Saeed Al Maktoum, built in 1896. Until the middle of the last century, it was the residence of the rulers of the Al Maktoum dynasty, to which the current Emir of Dubai belongs. Now it houses a museum dedicated to the ruling family.

A spacious and bright pavilion – the Visitor Centre, perfectly fitting into the surrounding family of artefacts, is provided for the conference, the modern equipment of which will allow delegates to feel comfortable throughout the working day. Within the walls of the Al Shindagha Museum, conference delegates will be able to take part in a guided tour that will immerse them in the history of human innovation, resilience and progress that have shaped modern Dubai.

GALA DINNER

At the end of the conference, all delegates are invited to the residence of the Russian soul, food and culture in the Middle East — the legendary restaurant Chalet BEREZKA, to taste exquisite dishes in a festive atmosphere during the final banquet, which perfectly combine the culinary traditions of Russian cuisine, powdered with the pollen of Dubai luxury.

At the gala dinner, delegates will be able to sum up the results of the conference in an informal setting, discuss exciting topics, and plan future contacts.

The Chalet BEREZKA restaurant is located in the heart of the Palm Jumeirah island, on the roof of the Nakheel Mall.
